

SAYS BUMPERS

Harvey of Swift. "This could have some bearing on whether the legislature goes along with him on new taxes."

Harvey said an antitax feeling prevails in the state, but he declined to speculate on whether this would be the attitude of the legislature.

Other legislators agree that the voters are in an antitax mood. Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs, who is in line to succeed Rep. Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana as the House speaker, calls it "almost a total resistance to taxation."

"It might be that with this new day and new governor and more information coming out on the needs of the state, there won't be quite as much reluctance on taxation as in the past, but the General Assembly only reflects the will of the people," Smith said.

He said Bumpers had made it clear during the campaign that he would not hesitate to seek additional revenue if he found it was needed. Because of this "completely honest" approach, Smith said, he feels that there "probably would be a little less reluctance" to accept tax changes than in 1969.

Wrangling over tax legislation dominated the 1969 General Assembly, which gave Rockefeller $20 million to 25 million of his $90 million request. A special session called by Rockefeller last March to consider new taxes put together a $10 million program and passed it.

Rockefeller had said in his losing campaign to Bumpers that the next governor, no matter who he is, will have to ask for more taxes to meet pressing state needs. Bumpers is holding out hope, however, that they won't be necessary.

State revenue collections for the first four months of the fiscal year increased by a net of about 5.7 per cent, or about $4.2 million, over the corresponding months a year ago. The state Administration Department is working now on a revenue forecast for the year to give to Bumpers and the Legislative Council.

The council will resume budget hearings Monday. Bumpers, working in an office down the hall from the council, also will be reviewing budgets.

The governor-elect has said that if he decides additional money is needed, he would present a broad-based tax program that would include tax reform. Bumpers has said possible sources of new revenue are removal of use tax exemptions granted quasipublic corporations, an increase in the tax on foreign insurance companies and in the severance tax and a raise in the income tax at the upper levels.

Enemy Builds Up Fuel to Move Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam has expanded its fuel storage capacity just above the demilitarized zone by about 1,500 per cent in preparation for heavy movement of supply trucks into Laos, says U.S. sources.

Reconnaissance photographs show the North Vietnamese have established fuel dumps that can handle some 1.5 million gallons, compared with a 100,000 gallon-capacity eight months ago, according to the sources.

Meanwhile, the North Vietnamese are said to have marshaled about 5,000 trucks in the Haiphong area for use in the expected big dry season push to resupply their forces in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

According to recent estimates, the North Vietnamese have moved more than 120 tons of supplies a day into the Laos-border area since the start of summer, compared with about 70 tons daily in the same period last year, sources said.

American reconnaissance has noticed also the construction of a sizable amount of covered storage facilities in the panhandle.

More supplies have been sighted spread out on pallets near Dong Hoi, about 50 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

In addition to supplies and equipment arriving from Russia and other Communist countries at Haiphong, the North Vietnamese reportedly have been sending small cargo craft to unload freighters standing off the North Vietnamese coast, well out into the South China sea.

These boats, sources said, then move the supplies directly to the panhandle, unloading across the beach at places like Quang Khe, a trans-shipment point some 60 miles above the demilitarized zone.

Streams leading from North Vietnam into Laos and thence into Cambodia also figure importantly in the North Vietnamese supply movement. Experts estimated that about 40 tons a day in fuel and other supplies are floated into Laos in barrels and waterproof bags.

American intelligence authorities say there is ample evidence that the enemy has made early preparations, even during bad weather, inside Southern Laos for the big supply surge to come.

This year, for the first time, the enemy left some 40,000 men and 1,600 trucks operating as a logistics group in the Laos region during the rainy season.

American airborne cameras have spotted more than 1,500 individual truck parks away from the main roads there.

U.S. sources estimate that the enemy has developed more than 2,300 miles of roads in southern Laos for supply handling.

Student Loses Suit Against Arkansas S.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury ruled here Wednesday that a former Arkansas State University student who contended his civil rights had been violated when he was suspended from ASU in January of 1967, was not entitled to any damage settlement.

William Earl Stewart, the former student who is now an English teacher at Kennett, Mo., had filed a $29,935 damage suit against the ASU Disciplinary Committee, the ASU Board of Trustees, Dean of Students Robert Moore and ASU President Carl R. Reng.

Stewart was one of several students suspended by the Disciplinary Committee for "conduct unbecoming of a student" as a result of being present at a party at an off-campus apartment where policemen found marijuana.

Stewart was seeking $12,000 punitive damages and $17,935 actual damages on grounds that his suspension damaged his reputation and delayed his entrance into the teaching profession.

He contended in the suit that his suspension was unreasonable and violated his right to freedom of association. He claimed that he did not use marijuana at the party. He said he was not "fairly appraised" of the charges brought by the Disciplinary Committee and was not given a chance to confront any witnesses.

GM LOST

among the industries hardest hit by the strike. State and local tax collectors also suffered. The strike became a political issue in Michigan, the state hardest hit by the shutdown.

Glenn S. Allen, Michigan's budget director, said the strike has cost the state about $25 million in reduced sales tax collections and about $25 million in increased welfare costs.

An Oct. 29 report to Milliken said the cities of Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Saginaw, Lansing and Highland Park had lost in the first month of the strike a total of nearly $1.5 million in city income tax revenues.

Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., which sells about 32 per cent of its output to auto firms, announced layoffs for 4,000 workers.

Kelsey-Hayes of Detroit, a major supplier of auto wheels, laid off 1,000 at its Detroit firm ... the F.J. Boutell Driveaway Co. of Flint, Mich., laid off 600, including 450 truck drivers ... The Grand Trunk Western Railroad furloughed 800 workers as auto shipping orders fell off ... Firestone Tire Co. laid off 1,500 or 10 per cent of its work force as the orders from Detroit fell ... and so it went.

GM spokesmen said the firm was losing about $90 million a day in sales during the strike, while workers lost $14 million daily in wages and the 39,000 firms which supply GM with parts lost about $40 million a day in sales.

The GM strike was handed a lot of the blame by the Nixon administration for the jump in job layoffs last month as the nation's unemployment rate pushed to its highest point in seven years.

The UAW strike fund shows a $44 million balance but the auto union owes $50 million to General Motors. That means the strike fund actually is $6 million in the red.

The auto firm, by agreement with the UAW, has paid during the strike period multimillion-dollar health insurance premiums for the UAW workers. The UAW is scheduled to pay hat money back to GM.

Mills Thinks Family Plan Less Expensive

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Wednesday that trade reciprocity among nations was essential in the 1970s.

Mills, speaking to the West Little Rock Rotary Club, said the United States could not continue with the lowest tariffs in the world if other countries restricted trade.

Under these conditions, the United States manufacturers, with the highest production costs in the world, could not compete abroad or at home with foreign companies, he said.

On another topic, Mills said he thought President Nixon's proposed family assistance plan would cost far less within 10 years than the nation would be out in continuing the present welfare program.

"If we go on like we've been going, I don't see any end to welfare ... no way to contain or control it," Mills said.

who concocted a lifesaving serum against infantile paralysis, or one who undergoes an operation in Denmark and comes back to proclaim a sex change. It is the deviation from the routine, plus the winning of attention, that makes a celebrity.

However, the social importance of what you do isn't the most important factor if you want to become a celebrity. You can do it by throwing a baseball or a football exceptionally well, being an outspoken U.S. Cabinet officer's wife, or, like publicist Jim Moran, finding a needle in a haystack or sitting on an ostrich egg until it hatches.

Get the public eye and ear—and you're in. The deviation from the routine invites a celebration, another deviation from the routine.

Incidentally, you mentioned a walrus being trapped in a revolving door. If you know of a walrus this can be made to happen to, I think we can make it a celebrity. How about me taking 65 per cent as a finder's fee, 25 per cent to you for managing the walrus, and we'll spend the other 10 per cent to buy fish to keep him happy and on his toes? It's a good deal for all.

Legislative Lobby Planned by Cities

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—a group of officials from several Arkansas cities with city manager and administrator forms of government will meet here this weekend to discuss formation of a lobby for the January session of the General Assembly.

The meeting will be held in conjunction with a meeting of the Arkansas Municipal League here Monday and Tuesday.

The league has come under fire recently. Among the primary complaints by members is that the league has not done enough toward getting legislation for the cities.

The Newport City Manager Board was presented the idea of forming a lobby group at their meeting Monday and reacted favorably.

Newport City Manager Gene Davis said that the idea of forming the lobby group stemmed from the feeling that something more needed to be done "to supplement the efforts now being conducted by the Arkansas Municipal League."

City Manager Paul G. Schriever of Texarkana said he had been contacting several cities to get their reaction, but that only Newport had responded. He declined to identify who initiated the movement.

Davis explained that if such a group were formed they would probably lobby for permissive legislation for municipalities. Among the suggestions is a city sales tax, which would allow cities to lower or eliminate other such taxes, Davis said.

Schriever said that the cities also need a "realistic annexation laws."

The Newport directors directed Davis to tell other interested cities that they would be willing to make a monetary contribution toward securing such lobbyists.

Obituaries

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Charles Lochridge, 65, one of America's foremost bridge players and winner of numerous team and individual championships, died Wednesday of cancer. Lochridge won the Vanderbilt Cup in 1937 and in 1949.

LA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Wesley Fry, 67, general manager of professional football's Oakland Raiders from 1960 to 1963, died in his sleep early Wednesday. He was director of player personnel for the Raiders before becoming general manager.

Teacher of Year Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Evangeline Cothren, who teaches business education at Greene County Tech High School at Paragould, has been chosen Arkansas Teacher of the Year for 1971, according to an announcement by state Education Commissioner Arch Ford.

Mrs. Cothren was selected from about 20,000 Arkansas teachers. She will represent the state in national competition.

Optional ROTC

Favored by New Trustee

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The newest appointee to the Arkansas State University BOARD OF Trustees says he supports voluntary ROTC.

Elijah Coleman of Pine Bluff, the first Negro to serve on the ASU board, said he did not think a man entering college should "have to bother with ROTC if he doesn't want to."

Coleman was appointed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to replace Mrs. Dorothy Stuck of Marked Tree, who resigned to become regional director of the Civil Rights Office of the Health Education and Welfare Department at Dallas.

A motion to make the ROTC courses at ASU voluntary was defeated last year on a vote of 3-2.

Coleman also said he thought there was a "lot of duplication and waste" by having a separate board for each college and university in the state.

He said, however, that a possible merger of all colleges and universities in the state into a statewide university system would be a good idea only if the schools had programs that were "complementary" to each other.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Somebody had a good, simple idea: get six of the top impressionists in show business and turn them loose in front of the television cameras. The result Wednesday night was one of the brightest NBC "Music Hall" hours of the season.

The team consisted of Frank Gorshin, David Frye, Rich Little, George Kirby, Will Jordan and Eddie Adams. Most television viewers have seen them doing the characters they presented. But with them working together, it was more interesting than a monologue.

There were a number of high moments. Gorshin was superb in the windup, doing Richard Burton talking a song from "Camelot."

There was George Kirby's amusing mimicry of Ella Fitzgerald and his imitation of Flip Wilson doing his Geraldine character. Eddie Adams as Zsa Zsa Gabor was great and so was her Barbra Streisand.

David Frye turned up with his usual bag of politicians. He handled Nixon, Johnson, Humphrey and Rockefeller with accustomed skill and was equally good as Henry Fonda.

Most of the impressions were presented in the course of a sketch with some slight plot. Will Jordan, who is eerie when he takes off on Ed Sullivan, appeared in a sketch playing Sullivan while a number of other mimics played Sullivan assistants, all with the speech and mannerisms of that much-imitated host. Since none was anywhere near as good as Jordan, it slowed the program and was certainly not improved by a short appearance by Sullivan himself.

The president's daughter and her Iowa veterinarian will have a very short married life. NBC will cancel the half-hour show, "Nancy," at midseason, apparently because it failed to attract a big enough audience.

It is expected that "Bracken's World" will be replaced by an action show and "Nancy" by a situation comedy about an airline stewardess, both to be made in England.

"Dan August," one of the fast-moving series upon which ABC is expected to lower the midseason boom, is a fast-moving, well produced hour that just never caught on.

The story Wednesday was hung on the killing of a union official and worked logically and well. The main trouble with the show seems to be its competition—the established and well-done "Hawaii Five-O", another police action hour, on CBS, and more action on NBC with "San Francisco International Airport." Somebody had to be the loser in that company.

Coming, Going

The Joe Jones' and the W. R. Burks' visited in Little Rock Tuesday with their daughters, Mrs. Lee Stephens and Mrs. Jack Royal and their families.

Mrs. Hugh Brown, Dallas formerly of Houston is visiting the Ed Thrash family.

Key Items in GM and UAW Agreement

DETROIT (AP) — Bargaining table sources say the proposed pact between General Motors and the United Auto Workers contains these key items:

—Return to an unlimited cost-of-living allowance, which moves wages up or down with quarterly changes in the Consumer Price Index. In the previous contract, the cost-of-living allowance was limited to eight cents an hour in the second and third years of the pact.

—First-year wage increases of 49 to 61 cents an hour depending on pay classifications. Before the strike, the union sought a boost starting at 61 cents and the company had offered one starting at 38. Hourly wages under the old contract averaged $4.02 an hour, plus fringe benefits the automakers said were worth $1.75.

—Retirement for workers with 30 years service on pensions of $500 a month at age 58 in the first year of the contract, 56 in the second and possibly 55 in the third. The union had sought retirement after 30 years service regardless of age.

Other details were withheld pending a meeting of the UAW's GM Council.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

INCAPABLE OF LOVE?

Dear Helen: What's wrong with me? I'm 15 and while I'm not bored of life, I get bored very easily with the opposite sex. I date a guy about twice, and that's it, even if I've been crazy about him before he asked me out.

They're nice kids, but we run out of things to say, or I begin to see all their faults, or start getting scared because they might get too serious.

Am I incapable of love? — FICKLE IN A PICKLE

Dear FIP: No, not incapable—just unready. You'd be surprised how many fifteeners ask your question—for they're at a time in life when "getting" is more important than "keeping."

This works for things as well as people. Remember the boots, record, maxi-coat, mini-bike "just couldn't live without," but once yours, they didn't seem all that great? Making the conquest is more fun than hanging on to him, at your age for several reasons:

1. Familiarity breeds contempt—or attempt. You discover he's not half so glamorous up close, when all he can talk about is his car, or other dull stuff like former girlfriends, etc. . . . Or else he wants to play "backseat baseball."

2. You aren't sure yet which type you like best, but the one you CAN'T get always seems better—until you get him.

3. Teen-agers must keep proving themselves. A new boy on the line is another popularity-point. Besides, it keeps life interesting.

4. Perhaps you're so unsure of you worth that if a boy tumbles, you subconsciously wonder, "If he likes ME, what's wrong with him?" and start looking for the defects.

At any rate, FIP, consider yourself normal. Mid-15s don't stay with the same partner long

Facts About Your Social Security

By KEN HARGIS

Question: At different times, I have read about Medicare and Medicaid. Will you please explain the difference between the two?

Answer: Medicare is a system of health insurance for older people; it is federally administered, as authorized by the Social Security Act. Medicaid is administered by the State Department of Public Welfare; it provides for health services for persons who are found by the state welfare offices to be eligible for the services according to the needs of each applicant.

Question: What does Medicare under social security consist of?

Answer: There are two separate parts of Medicare. One, Part A, provides hospital insurance for persons over age 65 who is eligible for social security benefits by his own work or by the work of a spouse. Hospital insurance is financed by social security taxes which are designated for that purpose.

Question: What about the other part of the health insurance under Medicare?

Answer: It is known as Part B, or medical insurance; it provides protection against the major part of doctor bills for beneficiaries. It is voluntary for almost everyone over age 65 who agrees to pay the premium of $5.30 a month. The Government pays the same amount for those who sign up for it.

Question: Is Medicare just for retired people?

Answer: No; you don't have to retire, but benefits are not available before age 65. Those who apply for the health insurance are eligible for a wide variety of health care when the benefits are needed even if they continue working.

Question: How do you make application for Medicare?

Answer: Please don't wait until you need health care to apply. Everyone should inquire about Medicare during the three months before age 65. That way the insurance is effective

S&L Checking Account Under Consideration

By LEIF ERICKSON

associated Press Writer SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chairman Wright Patman of the House Banking Committee said today he is drafting a bill which would allow savings and loans associations to offer checking account service.

Patman said the bill he will offer in the new Congress also will provide 100 per cent insurance for local government deposits with savings and loans groups and permit the associations to handle federal deposits.

Patman, D-Tex., and longtime banking system critic, reported the main features of his omnibus savings and loan bill to the United States Savings and Loan League convention.

"It is a gross absurdity—and a serious inequity—to give the commercial banks a total monopoly over checking accounts," he said in an address prepared for the convention.

"Many savers would come to the savings and loans if they could obtain basic checking account privileges," he said.

"The savings and loan industry must also be given a better deal—a fair deal—in the deposit of public monies," Patman said. "This includes the public funds of the federal government as well as those of the local and state governments across the land."

He said the massive federal tax and loan accounts—ranging from $5 billion to $10 billion—now are the sole preserve of commercial banks.

"I also propose that funds deposited by local governments—school districts, county governments, city governments and others—be given 100 per cent insurance by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp."

A spokesman for Bank of America, world's largest commercial bank, said government deposits in commercial banks are not insured. The Public Deposits Act, however, requires that banks produce 110 per cent collateral in government and municipal bonds for public deposits.

Arkadelphia Over McGehee in Playoff

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Conference titles in Class A and Class B have been decided. This week belongs to the big boys.

Top-ranked North Little Rock can sew up undisputed possession of the Class AAAA title with a victory over Fort Smith Northside.

Second-ranked Jonesboro can wrap up the AAA-East title with a victory over Helena.

Fourth-ranked Hot Springs can claim the AAA-West championship with a victory over Fort Smith Southside.

And, three of the region titles in AA will be decided Friday night.

North Little Rock, with Billy Burns and Daryl Lunon supplying the ground power, are unbeaten in AAAA conference play and wrapped up at least a share of the title with a last-minute victory over Pine Bluff two weeks ago.

Northside was picked to finish second to Hall in preseason polls, but the Grizzlies have lost two conference games. However, with Roger Carter in the backfield, the Grizzlies are a threat to beat anybody.

North Little Rock was off last week and that extra week could make a difference.

North Little Rock 20, Northside 14.

El Dorado and Little Rock Hall are the only two teams with a chance to tie the North Little Rock and they meet Friday night at Little Rock.

The Warriors were at their best two weeks ago, thrashing Northside. The Warriors also had last week off.

LR Hall 28, El Dorado 20.

Jonesboro's defense has hung up eight shutouts in 10 games and the Hurricane should have little trouble with Helena, winner of one game this year.

Jonesboro 20, Helena 0.

Hot Springs wants a crack at Jonesboro in the AAA playoff, but the Trojans must get by Southside. The Rebels have won four straight conference games and would clinch at least a tie for the AAA-West title with a victory.

Southside will have the home field, but Coach Bobby Hannon isn't about to let the title slip away.

Hot Springs 13, Southside 7.

In the Region playoffs, Arkadelphia meets McGehee, Pine Bluff Dollarway plays Conway and Wilson Rivercrest takes on Stuttgart.

Arkadelphia 21, McGehee 14.

Conway 10, Dollarway 7.

Stuttgart 14, Rivercrest 13.

Last week's percentage was .783. Here are some other predictions involving AAA and AAAA teams.

LR Parkview 15, LR Central 14; Jacksonville 19, Blytheville 7; Pine Bluff 20, Clarksdale, Miss., 14; Forrest City 27, West Memphis 21; LR Catholic 20, LR McClellan 14; Benton 20, Fayetteville 7 and Texarkana 13, Springdale 7.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 21st annual Pro Bowl football game will be played here Jan. 24 with a new format that for the first time since the merger of the National and American Football Leagues matches the two conferences.

Prescott to Host Joe T. in Playoff

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — McGehee, winner of the Class A high school playoffs last year, is shooting higher this year.

The Owls begin their run at the Class AA title Friday night at Pine Bluff.

Increased enrollment forced McGehee into Class AA this year and the Owls zipped through their Region 4AA-East schedule with a 10-0 record.

The Owls meet Arkadelphia, winner of Region 1 AAA-West, Friday night for the region title and the right to advance to the semifinals of the AA playoffs.

Arkadelphia, sporting a 9-0 record, is top-ranked in Class AA and ranks fifth in the state. McGehee is third-ranked among AA schools and eighth in the state.

Other AA playoff games match Wilson Rivercrest, 8-1-1, against Stuttgart, 6-4, for the Region 2AA title Friday night at Wilson and Conway, 6-3-1, against Pine Bluff Dollarway, 7-2, for the Region 3AA championship at Conway.

Rogers, champion of Region 1AA and second-ranked in Class AA, has a first-round bye.

The second-round games will be played the weekend of Nov. 20-21 with the final game set for the weekend of Nov. 27-28.

The Class A and Class B playoffs also begin Friday night.

The Class A playoffs were resumed last year after a layoff of several years and the playoffs in Class AA and B were resumed this year.

The participants in the Class A and Class B playoffs qualified by winning their respective district titles.

Here is the playoff lineup in Class A:

Booneville (District 4, 9-1) at Alma (District 1, 8-2-1).

Joe T. Robinson (District 5, 8-1-1) at Prescott (District 7, 7-3).

Corning (District 2, 7-2-1) vs. Marked Tree (District 3, 9-0-1), at Jonesboro.

Rison (District 8, 7-2-1; at Des Arc (District 6, 6-4).

Here is the playoff lineup in Class B:

Danville (District 4, 8-2) at Gentry (District 1, 8-2).

Magnet Cove (District 5, 8-2) at Dierks (District 7, 10-0).

Harding Academy (District 2, 6-3) at Luxora (District 3, 7-3).

Norphlet (District 8, 7-2) at Gillett (District 6, 4-6).

Cancellation Changes Driving Champ Picture

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The cancellation of the Texas 400 scheduled for Dec. 6 at Texas International Speedway has dramatically changed the battle for the Grand National Driving championship between Bobby Isaac and Bobby Allison.

Isaac holds an 85 point advantage over Allison and a finish in the American 500 Sunday at North Carolina Motor Speedway would assure the Catawba, N.C. native of his first driving title.

The American 500 is worth 150 points to the winner with one event remaining after that, a 100-mile at Longley Field Speedway in Hampton, Va., Nov. 22. That race will be worth only 50 points to the winner.

If Isaac comes out of the American 500 with more than a 50-point lead, he will clinch the championship, worth an estimated $100,000.

For Allison, of Hueytown, Ala. to stay in contention, he must finish the American classic approximately 25 positions ahead of Isaac.

Isaac now has 3,751 points and Allison 3,666. Both are Dodge drivers.

The manufacturers championship may also be decided to Rockingham. To clinch the championship Dodge must hold a 10 point lead over Plymouth after the American.

Bucks Capture 7th Straight at Boston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mr. A and the Big O are proving a potent 1-2 punch for the Milwaukee Bucks in the National Basketball Association.

Mr. A, otherwise Lew Alcindor, scored 44 points and the Big O, the nickname for Oscar Robertson, added 26 for a combined 70-point performance in leading the Bucks to their seventh straight victory Wednesday night by 123-113 over Boston.

The veteran Robertson added 10 assists in what Larry Costello, coach of the Bucks, called "his best game for us" since he came to the Bucks from Cincinnati.

In other games Philadelphia beat Baltimore 119-107, Los Angeles shaded Detroit 117-115, Buffalo overcame Atlanta 134-118, Phoenix tripped Portland 114-100 and San Diego humbled Cincinnati 127-120.

Carolina defeated the New York Nets 106-102 and Kentucky beat Virginia 128-123 in the American Basketball Association.

The Celtics, led by John Havlicek's 31 points, took a 10-point lead in the third period, but a 13-2 Milwaukee spurt put the Bucks ahead at 78-77. A three-point play by Alcindor broke an 89-89 tie and the Bucks were in front to stay.

Archie Clark threw in 30 points to lead Philadelphia over the Bullets. He got 14 of them in the third period as the 76ers broke loose for 41 points. Wes Unseld topped the Bullets with 28.

Wilt Chamberlain got 27 points to lead Los Angeles over Detroit. The Pistons cut a 30-point deficit to 116-115 with 32 seconds left before a free throw by Fred Hetzel sewed it up for the Lakers. Dave Bing was high for the losers with 35.

World Cup Play Faces Rain, Cold

By R. GREGORY NOKES

BUENOS AIRES, (AP) — Rain, wind, cold and an Argentine general strike faced the 43 national teams playing in today's opening of the World Cup Golf Tournament.

As if that weren't enough, the players also were complaining about the greens on the 6,700-yard Jockey Club Course for the four-day, 72-hole tourney.

"It would be easier to putt on a concrete floor," joked Lee Trevino of the United States after shooting a respectable 69 in Wednesday's Pro-Am preliminary.

A cold rain, lashed by gusty winds, started shortly after the wind-up of the Pro-Am tournament. Today's forecast was for rain and temperatures in the 50s.

Officials, however, said it would have to be a lot worse before the tournament would be cancelled.

"They've played in rain before," said Fred Corcoran, of New York, executive director of the International Golf Association. "In fact, we had one of our finest tournaments in the rain."

A 36-hour general strike called by the country's labor federation to protest the Argentine government's economic policies also was scheduled to begin today.

"We're prepared for that, too," said Corcoran. "There was some concern the regular workers might not cut the grass, so we've lined up some volunteers."

Of the 43 teams, the United States, Argentina, England and Australia were the pre-tournament favorites, although Brian Hugget of Wales and two Japanese professionals drew attention in the Pro-Am.

Hugget, 34, playing in his sixth World Cup, fired a eight-under-par 64, three better than Takaaki Ono of Japan.

The second member of the Japanese team, Haruo Yasuda, fired a 68 to give Japan the best combined scores for the pros.

Hugget teamed with amateur Allen Clewell of the U.S. to win the Pro-Am with a best-ball score of 57.

The Argentine pros also played well. Roberto de Vicenzo, the home favorite who has never missed a world cup tourney, shot a 68, and teammate Vicente Fernandez had a 69.

Dave Stockton of the United States shot a 70 to go with Trevino's 69. Another top player in the tournament, Tony Jacklin of England, shot a 69.

Canada and Argentina were the first teams scheduled to tee off.

Small College Leads U.S. Statistically

NEW YORK (AP) — Stingy San Diego State, allowing opponents an average of 171.1 yards per game rushing and passing, continues to rule the nation as the top defensive team.

It's the third straight week on top for the Aztecs, who have allowed 67.9 yards rushing and 103.3 passing in their eight games, according to today's NCAA figures.

Miami, Ohio, is second in total defense, allowing 175.8 yards a game and Toledo, third, with an average of 182.0.

Louisiana State leads in rushing defense with a 51.7-percentage mark and Toledo is No. 1 in pass defense, yielding 78.8 yards and no touchdowns in nine games.

Dartmouth is the top college in scoring defense, yielding exactly six points a game in its seven contests thus far and Utah leads in punting with 50 punts for a 45.9-yard average.

by Lou Hudson's 21. Rookie Pete Maravich of the Hawks was accidentally kicked in the back of his left knee in the second quarter and suffered a muscle bruise. He did not play in the second half.

Dick Van Arsdale scored 28 points as Phoenix downed Portland. Geoff Petrie was high for the Trail Blazers with 27.

Star Elvin Hayes was elected for pushing referee Jack Maden in the third period, but San Diego survived a subsequent Cincinnati rally to beat the Royals.

Stu Lantz scored 38 to lead the Rockets. Tom Van Arsdale had 34 for the Royals.

Perry, Monte Teams Are Victorious

Wednesday night Perry's team beat Blevins 80 to 74 in independent basketball play.

Henley with 25 and Ramsey with 17 led the winners while Bonds and Hicks scored 17 and 16 respectively for Blevins.

In the second contest Monte's team downed Spring Hill 96 to 89.

East had 21 and Hatfield 19 for Monte's while Sooter made 24 and Polk 17 for Spring Hill.

Expansion Team in 4th Place in NHL

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

Just what's going on in the National Hockey League's East Division?

Here are the Vancouver Canucks, an expansion team tossed together by the leftovers of the other 12 established clubs and destined, of course, for the bottom of the standings, solidly entrenched in fourth place.

What's going on is the Canucks' total domination of the poor Toronto Maple Leafs, who, like Detroit and Buffalo, trail Vancouver in the East standings.

Vancouver is 2-8-2 against the rest of the NHL and an impressive 3-0 against Toronto. The third straight victory came Wednesday night when the Canucks bunched three third-period goals to beat the Leafs 4-2.

Elsewhere in the NHL Wednesday, Pittsburgh rallied for a 3-3 tie against New York, Chicago battered Philadelphia 7-1, Minnesota turned back Los Angeles 3-1 and California blanked Montreal 2-0.

Vancouver's Ray Cullen and Paul Henderson of the Leafs traded second-period goals and then the Canucks took control with third period goals 87 seconds apart by Rosaire Palement and Barry Wilkins. Cullen later added an insurance goal.

In addition to their three regular season victories over Toronto, the Canucks also beat the Leafs in a preseason game. The three losses have kept the Leafs mired near the bottom of the East standings with six points compared to the 14 accumulated by the Canucks.

Vancouver is a mere six points away from first-place Boston.

Pittsburgh came from behind with third-period goals by Jean Pronovost and Wally Boyer to tie the Rangers.

Earlier, Nick Harbaruk had scored for the Penguins and Vic Hadfield, Dave Balon and Ted

Russian, Jap Dominating Gymnastics

WINNIPEG (AP) — The six competing countries got down to serious business Wednesday, and by the end of the day the World Invitational Gymnastics Tournament, had become the personal gold mine of two athletes.

Ljudmila Turisheva, Russia's female world champion, and Japan's Teruchi Okamura each pocketed four gold medals, including those for the individual over-all championships.

Miss Turisheva, 18, had gold medal performances on the uneven bars score of Tuesday was announced—9.90 of a possible 10. But Miss Turisheva made believers out of everyone when she repeated the 9.90 performance Wednesday.

Teammates Zinaida Voronina and Larisa Petrik finished second and third, respectively, in the uneven bars then switched placings in the vaulting.

The only U.S. women to make finals were Adele Cleaves and Kim Chase in the vaulting and Joan Moore in the uneven bars, all finishing fourth.

Okamura, a 22-year-old college student, won the floor exercise ahead of silver medalist Georgy Bogdanov of the Soviet Union and Yuichi Ueda of Japan and John Crosby of the United States, who tied for the bronze medal.

Okamura shared the rings gold medal with Mikhail Voronin of Russia, a former world champion.

Milos Vratich of Yugoslavia, the youngster selected by his country to succeed eight-time world pommel horse champion Miroslav Cerar, won the event with a brilliant final round that enabled him to edge Voronin.

Earlier in the day, Okamura warmed up for the finals by recording the best scores in the three afternoon preliminaries on the parallel bars, horizontal bar and vault.

His points earned him the over-all individual male gold medal, dropping first-day leader Voronin to second.

In the team competition, the Japanese edged the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.

The Russian women were never threatened as a team. The surprise was the second-place finish of the United States girls, who edged the Japanese.

The three-day competition ends tonight with the finals of the men's vault, parallel bars and horizontal bar and the women's floor exercises and balance beam.

Defense Fine But Offense Also Helpful

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense may be the name of the game, as some experts claim, but it doesn't hurt to have some offense in the National Football League.

Two cases in point are the St. Louis Cardinals and San Francisco 49ers, who are running 1-2 in the National Conference's team offense race.

Their high-powered production has kept St. Louis atop the East Division standings and San Francisco in front in the West.

The Cardinals have amassed 1,269 yards rushing and 1,461 passing for a conference-topping 2,730. The 49ers have 895 rushing and 1,768 passing for 2,663, NFL statistics showed today.

Oakland, the American Conference's offense leader with 2,928 yards rushing and passing, is the No. 1 team in that circuit's West Division. The Raiders have compiled 1,251 yards rushing and 1,877 passing.

Cleveland, runnerup in offense with 2,420 yards on 919 rushing and 1,501 passing, is tied with Pittsburgh for first in the AC's Central Division race. Minnesota continues to lead team defense in the NC. The Vikings have allowed 1,633 yards—775 rushing and 858 passing. Los Angeles is runnerup with a 1,791 figure—690 rushing and 1,101 passing.

Denver leads the AC with 2,049 total yards allowed in eight games, 765 rushing and 1,284 passing. Kansas City is the No. 2 team in defense, allowing 2,061 yards on 943 rushing and 1,118 passing.

Key Ride Was the One Taken in a Taxi

By ED SCHUYLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The key ride in the United States' victory in the 19th running of the Washington, D.C. International horse race was the one jockey Jorge Velasquez took in a taxi.

"Jorge has confidence in the horse and the horse feels it," Elliott Burch, trainer of winner Fort Marcy had said before the $150,000 race at Laurel Tuesday.

But, for a cabbie, Velasquez would not have a chance to display that winning confidence.

"He was flying, I'm going to give him a good tip," Velasquez said of the cabbie who got him to Laurel HBM Course one minute before a steward's deadline that would have prevented him from riding and cost him $10,000, his percentage of the first money of $100,000.

Fort Marcy, a six-year-old gelding owned by Paul Mellon, won the 1 1/2-mile International over a soft turf course in the rain by a length over Miss Dan II, a three-year filly from France.

The winner, giving the United States its ninth International victory and first since he won in 1967, took the lead on the final turn and withstood Miss Dan II by a length in the slow time in 2:42 4-5.

Bacuo of Italy was third, another five lengths back and a nose in front of the other U.S. representative, Howard B. Keck's Fiddle Isle.

If the race was slow, the Velasquez cab ride from Baltimore's Friendship International Airport to Laurel wasn't—15 miles in less than 15 minutes.

The crucial cab ride—for Velasquez, Burch and Mellon—resulted from a delayed plane ride from New York.

Velasquez and Ron Turcotte, who rode Franfeluche of Canada, sat at New York's Laguardia Airport for an hour and 15 minutes before weather permitted their plane to take off.

Once they landed in Baltimore, the unknown cabbie took over and got the two jockeys to Laurel about 3:10 p.m. EST, 32 minutes before the race and just one minute before the stewards' deadline for their arrival.

Jessie Davidson would have ridden Fort Marcy and another jockey would have been named for Franfeluche if they'd been a minute later.

Regular riders at a track must be in the jockey's quarters one and one-half hours before the first race. The arrival time for riders who are not regulars at Laurel is up to the discretion of the stewards.

Fort Marcy's second International victory—he was third in 1968 after winning in 1967—made him the 10th equine millonire in history. The victory brought his earnings to $1,03,230 and put him eighth on the all-time earnings list.

Sent off as the even-money favorite by the crowd of 28,764, Fort Marcy returned $4.20, $3 and $2.60. Miss Dan II paid $6.80 and $4.80 and outsider Bucuco was $7.40 to show.

The victory, fifth in 13 starts in 1970 and third in a row, virtually clinched the American grass championship for Fort Marcy, who also gained that honor in 1967.

The United States leads in International victories with nine, followed by France, with five. England has two triumphs and Venezuela, Australia and Ireland one each.

Velasquez never got a chance to tip the cabbie, unknown to Velasquez, a friend of Turcotte's paid the fare and the cabbie did not wait until the end of the race.

Yellowjackets Black QB Is Honored

Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — Eddie McAshan, first black athlete at Georgia Tech, is a quiet, complex individual whose initial season as quarterback of an otherwise all-white team has ranged from moments of greatness to downright despair.

The cheers roared throughout Tech's Grant Field when the 19-year-old sophomore from Gainesville, Fla., led the Yellow Jackets to three straight victories at the start of the season.

Tech also won its fourth game, one McAshan considers his poorest performance this year, but it was the following week that the fans began booing when McAshan failed to move the team against Tennessee in a 17-6 loss.

"Sure I heard it, but it didn't bother me," said McAshan. "It didn't really mean anything. Most of the time I just don't see the purpose of it because most fans don't really know what they are booing about."

With three games remaining, McAshan already has become only the eighth player in Georgia Tech history to surpass 1,000 yards total offense in a season, even though he's divided playing time almost equally with senior Jack Williams in the last three games.

McAshan has completed 97 of 192 passes for 1,001 yards and eight touchdowns and added 46 yards on the ground in 48 carries. His 50.5 completion percentage and 10.3 yards gained per completion are impressive, but he's also had the misfortune of giving up 17 interceptions.

He was named The Associated Press Southeastern area Back of the Week following his debut in which he completed 20 of 38 passes for 202 yards and one touchdown in a 23-20 triumph over South Carolina.

After watching game films, Coach Bud Carson said McAshan was off target on only two passes.

"By any standard it was a truly outstanding performance, but considering all the pressure that was on Eddie for the first football game, it was a fantastic performance," Carson said.

"I don't know if there ever has been that much pressure on a sophomore quarterback."

McAshan talks freely about football, but refuses to be drawn into discussions of the Vietnam War or social matters.

"I'm all the way against it, but I really can't go into detail about it," he says of the war.

"There are a lot of things that need changing in this country, but I can't really specifically tell you the things that need changing," he says.

McAshan says he's had no racial problems connected with football, and only a little off the field.

"There's been some, but I can't recall exactly when, where or what," he said. "The main thing I've noticed is when I walk around the campus late at night, a police car may slow up and stop, like I'm in a foreign territory. It makes it seem like I don't have the right to walk anywhere I want to."

His acceptance by his teammates has been total.

"I think the line in our football brochure about him sums it all up," said senior fullback Steve Harkey.

It says: "McAshan has enough talent that he is more likely to be remembered for his accomplishments as a player than the fact that he is Georgia Tech's first black athlete."

Rhodes to Be Dismissed by Colonels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gene Rhodes was expected to be officially dismissed today as coach of the Kentucky Colonels in the American Basketball Association even though the Colonels have won 10 of 15 games and eight of their last nine.

The Colonels whipped the Virginia Squires 128-123 Wednesday night, but after the game Rhodes virtually ran from the hall and failed to show up in the dressing room for the first time in his four years as coach.

"It's a pretty good indication he's not going to be our coach anymore," said Louie Dampier of the Colonels.

The club called a press conference for today at which, the Louisville Courier-Journal said, Rhodes would be replaced by Frank Ramsey, former star for the University of Kentucky and the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association.

The Courier-Journal reported that Rhodes had been fired after a difference with Mike Storen, general manager of the Colonels.

Carolina beat the New York Nets 106-102 in the only other ABA game scheduled Wednesday night.

In the NBA, Philadelphia downed Baltimore 119-107, Milwaukee whipped Boston 123-113, Los Angeles shaded Detroit 117-115, Buffalo humbled Atlanta 134-118, Phoenix tripped Portland 114-110 and San Diego overcame Cincinnati 127-120.

Down by 13 points at halftime 66-53, the Colonels came from behind to down the Squires on the shooting of rookie Dan Issel. Issel scored 34 points, 17 of them in the final period. George Carter was high for the Squires with 31.

Joe Caldwell, with 29 points, was the big gun for Carolina over the Nets, but it was a free throw by Frank Card that broke a 100-100 tie with two minutes left that put the Cougars ahead to stay.

Sonny Dove topped the Nets with 35 points, 21 of them in the first half.

Eddie Arcaro Undergoes Heart Surgery

MIAMI (AP) — Former jockey Eddie Arcaro was reported in serious condition but "resting comfortably" early today following heart surgery.

The five-time Kentucky Derby winner underwent surgery Tuesday at the Miami Heart Institute after suffering from a blocked coronary artery.

Doctors removed part of a vein in the 54-year-old jockey's thigh and created a bypass around the blocked area.

Arcaro's first Derby victory was in 1938 on Lawrin. He last won the coveted Churchill Downs classic in 1952 aboard Hill Gail.

Sir Dagonet Has Chance at Garden State

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Trainer Jimmy Croll paid $13,000 for a yearling at the Keeneland sales and said laughingly, "We'll have him ready for Garden State."

A funny thing happened to Croll and the yearling on the way to the races. They're in the Garden State, richest thoroughbred race this year. Even funnier is the fact that the colt Sir Dagonet has a good chance to win.

Sir Dagonet won one section of the Garden State Trial last week. As a result he is highly rated in Saturday's 1 1-16 mile run for a gross purse in excess of $300,000—perhaps over $200,000 to the winner.

In seven races, Sir Dagonet has been in the money every time, first three times, second twice and third twice. He's earned only $21,000 since he hasn't been tried for size in a stakes.

A field of 16 is expected in this gold rush for 2-year-olds. If they all start the gross will be $364,320, and the prize to the winner $212,592.

The pre-game favorite is almost certain to be Limit To Reason, who has won 4 of 10 starts and earned $319,055. The Brookmeade Stable colt won the Pimlico-Laurel Futurity and was awarded the Champagne on a disqualification.

Expected to start, in addition to Sir Dagonet and Limit To Reason, are Executioner; Buf-fare, Northern Jove, Sound Off, Jim French, Droll Rose, Tinsel Time, Ruffinal, New Round, Run The Gantlet, Iberale Emperor, Dothan, Robdale and Cool Moon. Each carries 122 pounds.

A $3 million issue to build a high-speed loading and unloading facility at the Port of Little Rock was approved 1,814 for and 221 against.

UA Board to Consider A&M Merger

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —The University of Arkansas Board of Trustees will consider Friday proposals to move Arkansas A&M College a step closer to merger with the U of A.

The A&M Board of Trustees unanimously agreed Monday night to the legal forms for merger.

The agreement provides specifically for the college to transfer all its assets, debts and contracts to the university.

The agreement also stipulated that Dr. Claude H. Babin, president of A&M, would be offered the top post of chancellor at the Monticello institution.

The proposed merger would become effective July 1, 1971, subject to action of the 1971 General Assembly.

The trustees of A&M and the U of A first announced merger plans at a joint meeting Sept. 25.

Hijacker Gets 7 Years in Rome Court

By PATRICK O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP)—The young U.S. marine who hijacked a TWA jetliner from California to Rome a year ago appealed today against his conviction in an Italian court and the 7½-year sentence given him. He asked for a new trial.

Air piracy is not a crime in Italy, but an Italian court found Raphael Minichiello, 21, guilty Wednesday night of kidnaping, assault and bringing into Italy an "arm of war," the M1 rifle with which he commandeered the Trans World Airlines craft.

The sentence was 13 months longer than the prosecution asked for, and three years and four months of it was on the "arm of war" charge. Parliament created the charge three years ago as a weapon against the Sicilian Mafia. Defense lawyers said the law hadn't done much to the Mafia, but it added a lot to Minichiello's term.

Defense attorneys Giuseppe Sotgiu and Edmondo Zappacosta contended that the court erred "in its evaluation of the facts, in its interpretation of the law and in the extent of the penalty." They said there should be a retrial because the court failed to accept "the insistent request of the defense to question the principal witnesses of the incident—the commander of the plane and members of the crew—thus preventing the disclosure of the actual facts."

The appeal asked that Minichiello be freed from jail to await the retrial.

Of the 7½ years, he has 4½ years left to serve. He has spent a year in jail since the hijacking, and he gets two years off because of a recent general amnesty.

Still hanging over the AWOL Marine's head is the slight possibility that he might be extradited to the United States. But both defense and prosecution attorneys said they thought it unlikely Italy would hand him over.

A federal grand jury in Brooklyn, N.Y., has indicted Minichiello for air piracy, a crime that carries a maximum sentence of death, but so far Italian authorities have not received an extradition request. Prosecution lawyers said Minichiello could not be extradited until he finishes serving his Italian prison term, extradition could not be ordered for a capital crime because Italy does not have the death penalty, and Italy doesn't usually extradite persons for a crime that does not exist in Italian law.

Minichiello had testified that he commandeered the airliner because he was up for court-martial on a burglary charge and he didn't think he'd get a fair trial.

This Thursday finds the famous auction quartet of A, B, Y and Z competing against each other in the weekly duplicate game. As usual Z is South with A and B holding the East-West cards.

The old auction experts put on a pretty good show of contract bidding today with Z winding up as declarer at four spades.

A made the normal opening lead of the king of hearts and B signaled with the nine. Z's long experience at dummy play made it easy for him to play the five spot without any indication that he was ducking. But the play didn't fool A in the slightest.

A could tell that Z needed the ace of hearts in order to have an opening bid so that B's nine-spot play almost surely indicated the start of an echo with a doubleton. A also knew that Z had some sound reason for ducking that first heart. What could it be?

After a moment of thought A was able to reconstruct Z's hand in its entirety. He had to hold six spades. With a seven-card suit he would have jumped when he rebid. With a five-card suit he wouldn't have made any immediate rebid. He had to be void of clubs, so the ace of clubs would give him a place to park his third heart at some stage or other in the play. This left him with four diamonds.

Therefore, A continued with the queen of hearts. Z won and led his 10 of spades but A hopped up with the ace and led a third heart for B to ruff. A still had to make his king of diamonds and Z was one down.

Note that if A had led a low heart dummy would win the trick with the jack and Z would then discard his ace of hearts on the club ace and make his contract.

Shingles, Chicken Pox Caused by Same Virus

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have contracted the "shingles" and am in terrible pain. Would you please tell me what to do and how long it will last?

Dear Reader—"Shingles" are caused by the same virus that causes chicken pox. Characteristically, "shingles" or herpes zoster occurs in adults, although it can occur in children.

In most cases, the adult has previously had chicken pox. The virus may remain in a dormant state for years and then become active.

Usually a nerve root is involved. The inflamed skin is over the area where the nerve is located. The most common location is along the curvature of a rib. A nerve follows the course of the rib from the spine, halfway around the chest. The band of pain may exist for several days before any changes in the skin are noted. In this time interval the doctor often has trouble discovering the cause of the severe pain. Then a rash, such as that seen in chicken pox, occurs along the rib.

The period of acute pain usually lasts 10 to 21 days, but the area may be sore for some time thereafter.

Unfortunately, there is nothing that can be given to eliminate the condition except medicine to relieve pain, so the disease usually runs its course. Pain medicine and tincture of time are all that can be offered. If the skin gets infected, the infection has to be treated.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 62 years old. Recently when I urinate I notice that I am passing blood. I have had prostatitis in the past and I have passed stones. I do not have any pain or hurt anywhere. Could it be cancer of the kidneys or prostate gland?

Dear Reader—Yes, it could. If it is painless bleeding it is probably not stones. The only way you can find out the cause is from a complete examination. It is likely that the doctor will need to look into your bladder or do other studies to locate the source of the bleeding and its cause.

Don't wait. See your doctor right away since blood in the urine.

Money Flows Like Wine in Campaigns

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Politics provides a brief but distinct financial bonanza at election time in Arkansas.

An estimate of campaign expenditures can be made more reliably than before because the Democratic party has agreed to make public the expense reports filed by the party's candidates.

The Republican party has so far refused to do the same.

A tabulation of the reports filed by Democratic candidates for statewide and district offices in the Aug. 25 preferential primary and the Sept. 8 general, or runoff, primary ends with the sum of $1,236,538.03.

That total, however, falls short of the full amount, since about two dozen candidates have failed to file expenditure reports.

The deadline for reports of expenditures for the first primary was Oct. 26 and the deadline for reports of expenditures for the runoff primary was last Monday.

The law provides that the primary election reports shall be filed with the party's state secretary within 60 days after each primary. A prison term of up to one year is prescribed for candidates convicted of failure to obey the law.

Dr. Bob C. Riley of Arkadelphia, elected lieutenant governor after securing the Democratic nomination in the Sept. 8 runoff, had no report on file at the party offices for his runoff expenses, although he had filed a report for expenses up to the first primary.

His runoff opponent, James H. Harrell of Russellville, had no report on file at the party offices for either the first primary or the runoff. Two other unsuccessful candidates for the Democratic nomination, Kenneth Coffelt of Jacksonville and Bill Nelson of Rogers, had no report on file for the first primary, in which they were eliminated from contention.

As expected, the candidates for governor spent more than candidate for any other office. The total in the gubernatorial primaries was $608,280.51.

The most was spent by Dale Bumpers, winner of the Democratic nomination and victor in the Nov. 3 general election over the Republican candidate, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller. Bumpers' primary total was $186,551.93.

Bumpers contended throughout the general election campaign that Rockefeller was spending more. He called the governor's spending a "callous misuse" of money and an insult to the voters.

One of Bumpers' most-mentioned campaign pledges was an attempt to pass legislation to limit campaign expenditures.

Charles D. Matthews of North Little Rock, former Democratic party chairman and now an adviser to Bumpers, says that an Oregon law limiting campaign expenditures is among those being considered as a possible model for Arkansas.

Matthews said that a successful candidate for attorney general in Oregon was challenged on his right to take office for spending beyond the limit established in that state's law. The candidate was permitted to serve, however.

Rockefeller has repeatedly refused request by newsmen to reveal his monetary outlay in campaigns.

No Republican party official who make GOP campaign spending reports available to reporters without approval from the party's Executive Committee.

Neal Sox Johnson, executive secretary of the state GOP, said, however, that he would call the matter to the committee's attention probably just after the Nov. 21 meeting of the Republican State Committee.

Johnson said he believed the party should not permit public inspection of the reports. If candidates want to reveal their own spending totals, they may do so, but the party should not, he said.

Here are the totals reported as spent by candidates in the several other classes of offices, with the number of candidates in each class, including the candidates who have yet to file reports:

—For House races, 142 candidates, $130,461.58.

—For Senate races, 46 candidates, $159,684.52.

—For lieutenant governor, six candidates, $13,608.45.

—For attorney general, two candidates, $83,093.32.

—For treasurer, one candidate, $500.00.

—For auditor, one candidate, $500.00.

—For land commissioner, one candidate, no report.

—For secretary of state, one candidate, $640.00.

—For congressional races, four candidates, $3,620.35.

—For the Supreme Court, one candidate, $2,123.18.

—For chancery judge races, seven candidates, $18,096.20.

—For circuit judge races, 27 candidates, $68,355.63.

—For prosecuting attorney races, 26 candidates, $146,574.29.

Among expenditures not previously reported, these were some of the largest amounts:

—For Chancery judge in the 14th Circuit, J. H. Evans of Booneville reported $6,303.92 while his opponent, Van B. Taylor of Waldron, reported $2,888.28.

—For Circuit judge in the 5th Circuit, Russell C. Roberts of Russellville reported $8,384.41 while his opponent, Francis T. Donovan of Conway, reported $3,500.00.

—For Circuit judge, 4th division in the 6th Circuit, Richard B. Adkisson reported $15,801.11, A. James Linder reported $7,824.85 and John W. Bailey reported $4,574.09. All are from Little Rock.

—For prosecuting attorney in the 1st District, Gene Raff of Helena reported $17,002.87 while his opponent, Garland Ridenour of Helena, had no report on file at the party offices in Little Rock.

—For prosecuting attorney in the 5th District, Jeff Mobley of Russellville reported $12,300.00 while his opponents, Alex G. Streett of Russellville and Andre E. McNeil of Conway reported $7,775.19 and $3,012.47, respectively.

—For prosecuting attorney in the 6th District, Jim Guy Tucker of Little Rock reported expenditures of $25,397.27 while H. Allan Dishongh, also of Little Rock, reported $11,080.24.

—For prosecuting attorney in the 13th District, Beryl Anthony Jr. of El Dorado reported $10,632.22 while his opponent, Worth Camp Jr., also of El Dorado, reported $11,815.47.

—For Senate District 11, Bob W. Douglas of Texarkana reported $14,009.27 while his opponent, Nick Patton of Texarkana, reported $15,191.41.

—For Senate District 18, Position 3, Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock reported $10,674.79 and Jim Fowler of Little Rock reported $15,098.96.

Railway Union Ousts Man Over Religion

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A seventh-Day Adventist who lost his railroad job because religious beliefs prevented him from supporting a union has asked the Supreme Court to open a constitutional loophole in union-shop contracts.

Richard L. Gray of Bloomington, Ill., appealed after lower courts dismissed his contention that his religious freedom is violated by federal law allowing labor contracts with compulsory union membership.

Gray, 37 and the father of four, says his beliefs effectively bar him from the kind of work for which he is trained and skilled, because virtually all railway labor pacts have union-shop provisions.

As a machinist for the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad Co. he earned about $210 a week. He now earns $110 a week running a printing press at a relative's shop.

Gray was a member of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists for 15 years, but after joining the Adventist church became convinced its teachings would not allow him to remain a member. He left the union and the railroad in 1966 and rejoined the company the next year after failing to earn a living at church work.

However, Gray refused to rejoin the union as required by the labor pact, and refused even an alternative arrangement of paying initiation fee and monthly dues without taking union membership. His offer to pay an equal amount to charity instead of to the union was refused. At the union's insistence the company fired him Nov. 25, 1968.

Gray explained his position in a court affidavit:

"My church teaches that 'the remedy for social evils is not to be found in argument, controversy or strife' and that 'the remedy must be secured individually'..." This precludes joining or even supporting a union, he said.

Gray sued for reinstatement but lost before U. S. District Judge Daniel E. Thomas in Mobile, Ala., the railroad's headquarters.

Blast Outside USO Building in Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — An explosion occurred just outside the Saigon USO building in the downtown Saigon tonight but apparently caused no casualties.

An Army captain who was walking into the building just as the blast occurred said: "It definitely was an air burst of some sort."

He speculated it could have been a U.S. M79 or similar grenade fired from a gun.

Several windows on the second floor of the USO were shattered, and four vehicles parked outside were damaged, but there were no reports of casualties inside the building or on the crowded street. The windows of the building are guarded by grenade screens.

A military policeman on duty at the entrance said he did not see anyone in the area throw anything, supporting the captain's suggestion that the round was fired from some distance away.

Fraser Browning, Rochester, N.H., personnel director at the downtown recreation center frequented by GIs from around the country, said about 50 people were in the building at the time.

"Evidently the force of the explosion was on the second floor," where the Stateside telephones and USO offices are located, Browning said.

A Champion Collector of Horse Collars

MARSHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Scott Evans is probably the world's all-time champion horse collar collector. If you've got 228 of them tucked away in your barn you can claim the crown. Evans has 227.

But they are just part of a treasure trove he has haphazardly assembled in a broken down 8-year-old emporium that used to house race horses.

There are log chains, iron beds, cooking utensils, a variety of chipped and cracked dishes and glassware, old lanterns, sheep shearing scissors, shovels, stone jars, scythes, a horse fly net, 14 cats and a few ghost horses.

Evans collected the relics — some called them antiques — at farm auctions. He likes to attend the sales because they give him a chance to indulge his weakness for horse collars. After the sales, he brings his acquisitions home and throws them in the horse barn.

Most farmers have a quick mind when it comes to turning a buck and Evans is no exception. He called it a "junkie shoppe" and the antique collectors began hanging around the barn like the flies used to.

Maysville folks just call it "The Barn." Evans has owned the barn for 30 years and says at one time he kept 86 cows there. The barn was built about 80 years ago by E. N. Perry as a home for his racing steeds.

Then it was the pride of the countryside. Now it's just a run-down, weathered old barn that is falling down on the outside.

On the inside, well it's falling down, too, but it is hard to tell with all the junk ... that is, antiques.

Evans wears his antique dealer's reputation rather lightly. He is in the barn during the mornings and afternoons. There is no sign out front, just a lot of "merchandise" piled up all over the place.

Evans could not close the place even if he wanted to. "Oh, sometimes I guess I lose a little out of her, but not much," he said. Anyway, it does not worry him.

"Sometimes I get a check through the mail with a note naming some items and hoping the check is sufficient," he said.

"Or some of the neighbors who know me may say, 'I stopped at the barn the other day and got a cream can or whatever — what do I owe you?'"

Some neighbors say that the ghosts of spirited horses sometime can be heard whinnying when the moon is full. Others claim it is only the wind moaning through the loose boards.

Evans, however, is not very interested in ghost horses. He is content with their collars.

Gray sued for reinstatement but lost before U. S. District Judge Daniel E. Thomas in Mobile, Ala., the railroad's headquarters.

U.S. Getting Out of Silver Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government officially gets out of the silver business this week, ending a long, colorful and sometimes controversial association with the white metal.
Once the main issue of a presidential campaign, the metal that used to make American coins ring has fallen on hard times—at least as money.
The government break with silver comes Tuesday, the date of the Treasury Department's final sale of the metal on the private market.

"Silver is just too valuable to be used as coinage," according to Thomas Wolfe, director of Treasury's Office of Gold and Silver Operation.
In other words, the supply of the metal has fallen so short of the demand that the face value of silver coins is worth less than could be obtained by melting the money and selling the silver.
At the last sale a few weeks ago, silver brought a price of $1.76 an ounce. Three years ago the set price for silver was $1.29 an ounce.

For all practical purposes, silver coinage ended in the United States in 1965 when Congress ordered all American coins except the Kennedy half-dollar minted from a copper-nickel alloy.
Now, because of the supply and demand problem, even the Kennedy coin is not being made.
Silver coins were used in this country in the early years, and through most of the 19th century the U.S. money system was based on both gold and silver.
Sixty-three countries have used pure nickel for 159 denominations of coins in 237 types since 1881.

France Says Goodbye to Gen. deGaulle

By JOHN VINCOUR
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — France said goodbye today to Charles de Gaulle.

In the magnificence of Notre Dame Cathedral, yet with the simplicity he ordained, world leaders joined thousands of Parisians at an austere Mass concluded with the Magnificat.

DeGaulle's body was not at this Church of Our Lady, where the tall general once celebrated the liberation of Paris from the legions of Adolf Hitler. The body remained at the home village where he lived and died. And there, a few hours later, it was committed to the soil of France.

Great crowds had gathered at the village of Colombey les Deux Eglises, but a simple burial in a country churchyard replaced the military pomp that DeGaulle had rejected for the final ritual.

Nonetheless scores of world leaders, including President Nixon, made the Notre Dame service the greatest such gathering since the funeral of Dwight D. Eisenhower 19 months ago. And the bells of cathedrals and churches all over France sounded a requiem.

In Paris, the monarchs and the princes, the presidents and the premiers sat on little red plush chairs before the altar of the 800-year-old cathedral for the Requiem Mass celebrated by Francois Cardinal Marty, the archbishop of Paris.

De Gaulle's name was pronounced only four times in 45 minutes of prayer for his soul. There was no eulogy, no playing of taps, no symbolic catafalque.

This simplicity heeded to the strong-willed general's wishes, expressed in instructions he wrote in 1952.

About 5,000 people—2,000 of them invited guests—crowded into the limestone interior of the cathedral. The high vaulted ceiling and the mighty pillars holding up the galleries along the nave were brightly lit by television lights. The crowd pressed under the galleries, restrained by police, and prayed aloud as the cardinal celebrated the Mass.

Thousands of French men and women gathered for the afternoon burial service at Colombey, the little village in eastern France which De Gaulle chose for his home in 1936. The body lay in a simple wooden coffin in his home there, where the former French president died Monday night of a heart attack.

At the start of the funeral service in Colombey, churches throughout the nation were to toll the knell for the dead.

Parisians streamed into Notre Dame, filling every space not reserved for the official delegations. The cathedral was open to the public until an hour before the service started.

Loudspeakers were set up in the neighboring streets and along the nearby banks of the Seine to relay the service. Radio and television carried it throughout France and Western Europe, and it was beamed by satellite to the United States.

The City Council called on the people of Paris to march silently up the Champs Elysees tonight, to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier under the Arc de Triomphe, in tribute to the man who led them out of defeat in World War II and saved the nation from civil war in 1958.

Masonry Course Offered at Tech School

Red River Vocational Technical School in Hope announced the beginning of its Masonry Construction Course this week according to J.W. Rowe, Director. This course is one year in length and is designed to teach the principles of laying brick and related masonry materials.

Jack Ashworth is the instructor for this class. Ashworth attended Florida Christian College in Tampa, Florida, and Allegheny County Vocational Technical School, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where he served his four-year apprenticeship in bricklaying. He has been active in the building trades since 1948.

Judges, Considered a New Constitution Foe, Now Want Amendment

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Several county judges in the state have suggested that the Arkansas Constitution should be amended to include a permanent three-mill road tax.

The tax, which must be voted on every two years, was defeated in at least six counties in the Nov. 3 general election.

Miller County Judge C. R. Bruggess said he had written about 15 judges on the matter. The tax was defeated in Miller County.

"I know that all of them that I've talked to say that something needs to be done," he said. "In this area we need some relief."

The judge noted that the Constitution of 1970, which was defeated in the Nov. 3 election, contained a provision that would have made the tax perpetual.

Sevier County Judge B. A. Mauldin was another judge who was in favor of including the tax in the Constitution.

He said that many times the voter goes to the polls and votes against all taxes, including the road tax. He said the tax was defeated in Sevier County two years ago because many of the voters "just didn't read it."

The tax passed this year by a three to one margin in Sevier County.

Other counties where the tax was turned down this year were Crawford, St. Francis, Lafayette, Saline and Lee.

Question Reflects the Confusion of a Very, Very Confused Time

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Pavement Poet:

"I have noticed through the years that you often write about celebrities, but some of them seem to me pretty much like oddballs, as much out of the stream of ordinary life as a war in a revolving door. Just what is a celebrity and what does it take to become one?"

"Sincerely,
"Puzzled Reader."
Dear Puzzled:

Your question is not easily answered, but it does reflect the confusion of a confused time.

One would think that, ideally, a celebrity was one who had done a deed of merit to ameliorate the fate of mankind and thereby had won its respect, affection and adulation.

Such a man would be the one who first discovered the value of the wheel, the one who first learned by implanted seed the principles of agriculture and made man a pauper rather than a hunting wayfarer, or the one who first plotted the best pathway from the stack of canned dogfood in a supermarket to the express exit.

Alas, these are among the begotten but forgotten heroes. They deserved celebrity but

31 Americans Killed in War Action

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Ground action in South Vietnam has fallen to its lowest level in nine months, and for the first time in five years American forces have gone two days in a row without having a man killed in action, the U.S. Command reported today.

The U.S. Command's casualty summary for last week also reflected the low level of enemy activity that has prevailed for the past six weeks and the accelerated disengagement of American troops from battle.

Headquarters said 31 Americans were killed in action during the week, while 45 died from accidents or illness. It was the second time since 1965 that more GIs died from nonhostile causes than were killed in combat.

The battlefield deaths were a slight increase over the 24 men killed the previous week, however, when the death count set a five-year low. Headquarters said this was the sixth consecutive week that U.S. battlefield deaths were under 50.

The command reported 104 U.S. troops wounded in action last week, the lowest number in almost five years.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 216 government troops killed last week, a drop of 93 from the previous week. It said 460 South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded. The U.S. command listed 1,584 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed during the week.

The only American casualties reported Wednesday were four men wounded aboard one of two helicopters shot down in the Mekong Delta. One South Vietnamese soldier aboard the helicopter was killed and six were wounded. There were no casualties on the second helicopter.

American bombers kept up their intensive campaign against North Vietnamese supply routes through Laos and Cambodia today. But only small skirmishes and six enemy rocket and mortar attacks were reported overnight, the lowest number since Feb. 6. Four Americans were reported wounded in the shelling.

Regional Fire Safety Program Held in Hope

Rudolph Bryant, Supervisor of the School Safety Program for the State of Arkansas held a Regional School Fire Marshals meeting in the auditorium at Hope High School Tuesday Nov. 10.

The meeting was attended by 115 pupils from all the schools in a three county area consisting of Hempstead, Nevada, and Lafayette.

All phases of fire safety were discussed, predominantly stressing Hazards encountered in the school system which cause fires, a well kept clean school or home hardly ever burns.

Considerable time was also spent on fire drills in our public schools, explaining the seriousness of these and that it was not a time of play but something to be taken serious as the time might come when it could save lives.

All extinguishers were explained, the working principals, and how to use them to get maximum benefit from same in case of fire.

It was also stressed at this meeting that in any public gathering place it is unlawful to hold assembly of large groups with exits locked or barred which might hinder exit in case of fire.

"We at the Hope Fire Dept. wish to extend our thanks to Mr. Bryant and his program as it tends to make the younger generation more fire conscious and this lessens the possibility of them setting something without thinking," Chief James Cobb said.

GM Lost $77 Million, Union Used Up $120 Million of Strike Fund

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors appears to have made its most noticeable and immediate dent in the pocketbooks of the corporate giant and the organization which represents its labor force.

But each day the world's largest manufacturing concern is shut down the strike takes an increasing toll on workers, auto dealers, companies that supply goods and services to GM and government treasuries that rely on the firm for tax revenues.

UAW and GM reached tentative agreement on a new national contract Wednesday, but the company is not expected to be turning out cars at its normal clip until Dec. 1 at the earliest.

During the strike which began Sept. 15, the UAW used up all its $120 million strike fund on weekly subsistence payments to about 394,000 union members.

GM lost $77 million for the third quarter, which included the first two weeks of the strike. This was GM's first quarterly loss since 1946, and it is expected to show more red ink in the fourth quarter.

Steel companies, railroads, trucking firms and airlines were

South Desegregation Complete Enough to Shift Enforcers North

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A high Nixon administration official says the task of compelling school desegregation in the South is complete enough that government enforcement officers are being shifted to such cases in the North.

The official, closely associated with civil rights enforcement, said the administration will place increasing reliance on Southern school officials to combat classroom bias.

"Just as had been predicted, most Southern school administrators in fact want to fulfill the law," the official told a group of newsmen at a background briefing. He could not be identified under ground rules of the session.

The official's comments appeared to confirm in part charges by civil rights organizations that the administration does not intend to press the issue of in-school discrimination in the South.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has encountered difficulty in framing guidelines against such practices as discriminatory grouping of children in classrooms according to ability, he said.

Warm-Cold Cycle for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas is going through another warm-cold weather cycle with warming conditions predicted for the state Friday night. Accompanying the warm front will be cloudy skies.

A cold front pushed into the state Wednesday night, bringing showers in its path in addition to the chilly temperatures. The cloudy conditions are expected to clear tonight, but return Friday with the warm front.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 55 at Harrison to 69 at Texarkana. Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 36; Harrison, 37; Jonesboro, 45; Pine Bluff, 47; Texarkana, 41; El Dorado, 42; Memphis, 46; Little Rock, 46, and Fort Smith, 43.

Precipitation recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included: .03 of an inch of rain at Fayetteville; .20 hundredths at Harrison; .02 at Jonesboro; .06 at Pine Bluff; .13 at Memphis and .04 at Little Rock.

DETROIT (AP) — Representatives of 394,000 striking General Motors workers meet today to decide whether to accept or reject a new three-year contract tentatively agreed on by bargainers for the corporation and the United Auto Workers.

Rejection of the pact by the council would send the union's negotiators back to the bargaining table and would almost certainly push the eight-week-old strike into 1971.

The council's meeting was scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m. EST in Detroit.

Although a UAW council has never rejected a national contract, drafted at the bargaining table, a few notes of dissatisfaction over the proposed agree-

PARIS (AP) — In the Gothic grandeur of Notre Dame Cathedral, in the simple village church of Colombey les Deux Eglises and throughout the villages and towns of France, his people pray for Charles de Gaulle. Leaders of nations throughout the world are attending funeral services in Paris for the French hero and former president.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sources say North Vietnam is expanding its storage capacity for fuel and other supplies in preparation for heavy movement of supply trucks from north of the demilitarized zone into Laos.

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command says ground activity in South Vietnam has fallen to its lowest level in nine months and for the first time in five years American forces have gone two consecutive days without a man killed in action.

Mullins Named to National Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, was named Wednesday as president-elect of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

Mullins, who has been president of the U of A since 1960, was named at the conclusion of the association's convention in Washington. Mullins takes office in January of 1972.

All Around Town

By The Star Staff

Many deer hunters have come by and others have called wanting the Star to take a picture of their kills. . . a hunter killing a deer has become such a common thing over the years that a picture has no real value except to the man who made the kill. . . and what many of the hunters wanted the Star to do was just take a picture for them and not publish it. . . this newspaper is not in the commercial photography business, so if you want a picture take it yourself or see Clyde Davis's Studio. . . he makes his living that way. . . there are several hundred deer killed in this county each season. . . so what if they all wanted the Star to take the picture? . . . the only picture this newspaper will make is some unusual kill, an extra large buck, anything out of the ordinary. . . for instance a Star newsboy got his buck and this is unusual, perhaps the first paperboy we can recall getting one. . . so a picture of the newsboy and his deer will be published but please, Mr. Hunter, don't ask this newspaper to take a picture just for you.

Judges and Clerks who worked in the General Election may pick up their checks in the County Clerk's office in the Courthouse.

First United Methodist Church will have a church-wide family supper Tuesday, Nov. 17 in the Fellowship Hall, starting at 7 p.m. The church will furnish the meat, bread and drinks. Members are asked to bring either a dessert, salad or vegetable. An interesting program is planned.

The Courthouse advises offices were opened yesterday, Veterans Day, and not closed as reported in this column. . . all of which proves that politicians are sensitive. . . about some things.

Nine Killed in Tulsa Explosion

TULSA, Okla., (AP) — A dynamite explosion has killed at least nine members of an oil company seismograph crew and company officials were trying to determine today how many men were in the crew.

Sheriff's and Tulsa police officers began investigating and Tulsa police officers began investigating at the first light of the day. Officers said explosives on a truck apparently were ignited Wednesday night by sparks from a high-voltage electric line struck by a crane.

Only one victim was immediately identified. He was David K. Ellis, 26, Tulsa, who had been employed by the Pan American Petroleum Corp. about five months.

The explosion occurred at the Pan American's Bird Creek testing site in northeast Tulsa County. A company official said the crew was conducting an experiment on an underground geologic fracture.

Officers at the scene said a crew of at least seven, and possibly eight men, was riding in the truck at the time of the explosion and that all were killed. The crew was conducting seismograph tests at the time.

Such testing in oil fields is done to map underground characteristics to determine where there is possibility that drilling will hit oil. Seismologists use dynamite in their testing.

Crowded Areas Environment Problem

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said here Wednesday that over-concentration of people in certain areas is the root of the nation's environmental problem.

McClellan told about 400 members of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce and Associated Industries in their joint meeting here that quality of environment can be preserved by counteracting the migration of persons to large cities.

"Much can be done to combat pollution and improve the quality of our environment by the adoption and implementation of a national policy to decentralize our expanding industry and to prevent a further concentration of population into congested metropolitan centers," McClellan said.

No Foreign Medical Practice

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Joe Verser of Harrisburg, secretary of the state Medical Board, says no foreign medical school graduate, qualified or not, is practicing legally in Arkansas because it is forbidden by state law.

Verser made the statement when asked about a report released earlier in the week that the medical profession nationwide had been derelict in its responsibility to police its own members.

The report, prepared by a study group under the sponsorship of consumer rights activist Ralph Nader, heavily criticized the alleged "leaking of unqualified foreign medical school graduates in the U.S. system and the reluctance of state medical societies to call their members to task."

Verser said all physicians practicing in Arkansas must be licensed by the board and that licenses cannot be granted to graduates of medical schools outside the U.S. or Canada.

The report quoted 32 state boards as saying they took no disciplinary action against any physician in 1969.

Verser said, however, that last year the state Medical Society reprimanded several doctors, revoked two licenses and suspended the licenses of three other doctors.

SHIP'S MAST? No, it's a power distribution pole showing some of the newest uses for fiberglass-reinforced plastics. The linemen's tools, the ladder, even some of the line separators are made of it. Because fiberglass is electrically safe and requires little maintenance, it is estimated that more than 245 million pounds of the material will be going into electrical products annually by 1976, according to a study by Owens-Corning.
